Handbells and handchimes are played by a group of people called RINGERS.

A HANDCHIME is a lightweight, durable and portable alloy chime with a squared tone chamber. It has a lower, sustained sound than our handbells.

Sound is made when the bell or chime is swung and snapped, causing the clapper to strike.

HANDBELLS and HANDCHIMES are in a tuned set, where each bell or chime has a different pitch or tone.

Though it's conveniently scheduled between school and religious ed, students should want to be involved; have a willingness to learn and a commitment to attend regularly. (A lack of responsibility toward attendance is a strong detriment to any group. Ask any coach.)

Ringers may not use rehearsal time for homework or other projects.

Are pictures / video OK?

Occasionally, a parent or parishioner takes photos or video, and sometimes posts these on social media sites such as FaceBook or YouTube.

Your signature on this registration form grants your consent to the taking of photographs or videos of your son/daughter as part of his/her participation in cuori BELLissimi, and your consent that these photographs or videos might be placed on the Internet.

And even though the parish doesn't take or post these photographs or videos, you understand you are releasing the parish and Diocese of Brooklyn from any claims, demands and liabilities whatsoever in connection with the above.
